50 Girls Cremated FACTORY GUTTED BY FLAMES 50 Others Injured

The Fire Spread So Rapidly Through Clothing Plant at Binghamton, N. Y., That It Was Impossible for the 125 Girls at Work to Make Their Escape.

MANY GIRLS LEAPED FROM BLAZING FACTORY AND WERE MANGLED

At First It Was Thought the Alarm Was for Fire Drill and the Girls Continued at Work Until Flames Swept Through Building—Most of the Injured Girls Received Their Hurts in Leaping From the Windows.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 22.—Fifty persons were killed, according to late estimates, and as many injured, a dozen or more fatally, in a fire which swept the four-story factory building of the Binghamton Clothing company this afternoon. The victims were chiefly girls and women.

Early tonight twenty-two bodies had been recovered. In the city hospital and in private institutions are thirty injured. Some two score persons are known to have escaped, as if by a miracle, from the building, which burst into flames like a tinderbox and became a roaring furnace almost in no time after the first alarm was sounded.

About 125 persons were in the factory when the fire broke out. Those unaccounted for, or most of them, are believed to be still in the red-hot ruins of the structure.

SEARCHING FOR THE VICTIMS.

Around the scene of the catastrophe, the greatest this city has ever known, thousands tonight watched the rescuers work in the glare of three big searchlights, many in the great throng being restrained only by the closely drawn police lines from rushing into the ruins to seek the bodies of relatives or friends.

Many streams of water are being poured into the fiery pit, which a few hours ago was the cellar of the burned establishment.

As the ruins were cooler slightly, from time to time in a space upon which the streams were centered, men went forward to dig as long as human endurance would allow them to work. Occasionally a body was found and quickly taken away.

This work will go on all night, and perhaps all day tomorrow, before the glowing mass gives up its last load. It will take at least two days, the authorities believe, before the cellar can be cleared and the whole truth known.

LIKE THE TRIANGLE HORROR.

The big outstanding fact of the disaster is its suddenness. In this the Triangle灾害 has a strong resemblance to the New York disaster, which was lost when the inflammable material upon which the employees were working and the waste littering the floors blazed up with inconceivable rapidity and set the imprisoned workers jumping from the windows to their death. The parallel here falls only in lesser weight and different composition of the material and in the bulk of the list of names involved. Another resemblance to the New York disaster is that the fire today is believed to have been started by the careless throwing of a cigarette butt. The dead body of Hart, who was the deadly burst of flame followed quickly after the alarm. There was little opportunity to use ordinary escape drills, as there were means of escape, especially the fact that the employees had found themselves in the building was equipped with fire escapes and an automatic alarm system. The alarm was timed to ring at 2:30 o'clock.

John D. Powers, telephone operator, telephoned to the central station. The usual apparatus for a fire alarm responded. Some excited person at Warren and Channing streets, four blocks away, saw a burst of flames and pulled the box there.

PLANS DESERTION; IS SHOT BY BRIDE

Tom Wood, Gainesville Ball Player, Is Fatally Wounded by Girl Wife as He Says Farewell.

Gainesville, Ga., July 22.—(Special.)—A young girl here, the third of his home, has blotted his final years. Tom Wood, third baseman of the Gainesville baseball team, is lying in a local hospital dying with a bullet wound through his lung, a girl who had accompanied her wounded husband to see him off 19 and had married him a few months ago. Wood is not expected to survive the day. Although still conscious, he is being sustained by stimulants in an effort to prevent his heart from stopping. He constantly accuses his bride and explains the shooting in her wish to save him dead rather than to have him desert her.

She is the bride's description.

She has told Sheriff Spencer that she shot because the ball player was preparing to leave her and Gainesville never to return, as deep was her love for him. She had accompanied her wounded husband to see him off.

She is the bride's description.

It is reported that she also told the sheriff that her intentions were to shoot herself if he should either consent to marry her or if he would not do so.

As he reached the door of his residence, according to the story, he turned and shot his bride, who fell to the threshold, pistol in hand and determined to end her life after another attempt to dissuade her from leaving for Atlanta on a midnight train.

Wanted Pistol is Hand.

Previously he had told his wife that he wished a separation and it was agreed that they should live separately together. She had been informed of his plans to depart at midnight, but that he would return some time for final reconciliation.

sometimes time and this is one of those times. Senator Woods of California, asserting the Fall resolution constituted a declaration that the United States was prepared to go to war if any of American citizens were not protected, urged that no hasty action be taken.

Senator Peabody agreed with the earnest desire to prevent war and that he had vainly sought to bring about a change in the administration's attitude of the fact that a stern Mexican policy would have prevented rather than have induced the war. The American policy of delay in Mexico was responsible, he declared, for the present critical situation, one which he said must be met by a firm and resolute action.

Action on the resolution today was prevented and it went to the calendar for further consideration.

Great Question, Says Bacon.

Senator Bacon insisted that the people of the United States were "entitled to a sense of responsibility" at this time, and any emanation of principle such as this should be thorough and complete. He said, "This resolution embodies the truth should not be discussed at this time; he said, 'This is entirely a question of expediency.'

"Nothing has been done to protect American citizens in Mexico," declared Senator Fall.

"Senator Bacon declared the facts did not warrant such a statement, but Senator Fall retorted, 'Wilson administration the state department had him repeatedly to constant diplomatic representations to the Mexican Americans and their property.'

"The efforts have been continuous and unceasing," said Senator Bacon, "but they have not availed, but it is not true that this administration or the previous one has not made efforts to protect the Mexican Americans."

"I have every reason to have faith," Senator Bacon continued, "from statements made to me by executive officers of the government, that every diplomatic effort is being made to protect Americans in Mexico."

Senate Approves Ambassador.

Denton, Texas, July 22.—A telegram to President Wilson received this morning announced that Conrad F. Smith, recently appointed ambassador to Mexico, protection to American citizens in Mexico and steps to the United States will be taken to "protect the Mexican Republic." This was sent from here last night by a special train load of Americans who had been held up through part of the Rio Grande valley. It signed number fifty-four. They did not give the hour, address, or name of the station from which it came. The telegram read: "We trust that President Wilson issues a proclamation to that effect."

Murder accusations characterize Presidential candidate Huerta as an "upstart murderer," a "black-handled murderer" and his regime as "founded upon treachery, duplicity and murder."

HARRY LUCAS AND WIFE DITCHED ON AUTO TRIP.

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—(Special)—
Mrs. Harry L. Lucas and wife of Atlanta arrived from Atlanta today in the early morning hours, having been in which they narrowly escaped serious injury.

When they about fifteen miles from Savannah Monday night the automobile in which Mr. Lucas and his wife had skidded into a ditch, all but turning over. After laboring for half an hour to get the car out and bleeding, Mr. Lucas had to abandon his effort.

After the rain was started falling toward Mrs. Lucas and her wife started walking to Savannah. They had gone more than a mile when they encountered a farm house and informed the owner to assist them. With the aid of shovels, planks and a mule the machine was freed and the couple continued on their way home, having to pay for the first and second pounds of each cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof.

"We are not going to get woman's suffrage by militant efforts, but by peaceful means," said Dr. John E. White, a suffrage speaker, who brought down the curtain with a speech on the subject of suffrage.

The woman's movement needs the daughters of the rich who have no idea of anything that requires sacrifice.

The woman's movement needs the wives of the rich—anybody—many of them—all they want is to find an education, an automobile, an apartment,

Mr. McLeod, who was invited to speak on the subject of suffrage, stated the growth of the state association which was organized twenty-three years ago to the present date.

"The woman's movement needs the consent of the government," said Mr. Grooman, who urged that all women should have equal rights and opportunities.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, however, do not share the consent of the government," said Mr. Grooman, who urged that all women should have equal rights and opportunities.

AKIN EXPLAINS PURPOSE OF THE DRAINAGE BILL

Says Government Offers Business Opportunity Not to Be Lost by State.

Action will probably be taken by the appropriations committee of the house at its next meeting tomorrow afternoon on the bill of Representative Akin, of Atlanta, which was introduced for a preliminary survey of the swamp lands of the state, with a view to their drainage.

The author regards this measure as one of the most important which the government has had to offer to the state this year. Its importance is out of all proportion to the size of the appropriation, which is $100,000.

"If we get this little appropriation from the state," Mr. Akin said Tuesday, "the bill will be duplicated by the United States. In addition, the government will furnish the surveyors to do the work. Blue prints and maps, and the results of the survey, copies of which will be available to parties interested."

The bill provides for a preliminary section of the state, which includes 4,500 square miles, will know just what the cost will be to have their lands drained.

A Great Business Chance.

"I do not see how our state can afford to allow opportunities like this to pass us by. There is a chance which every business man would grab. By making available to the state the money and for the purpose of this tract of land, $100,000 a year will be added to the taxable values of the state, and the state's revenue increased."

"It is absurd to say that the drainage of these south Georgia lands would be of no benefit to the state or to its holders. The ultimate purpose is to reclaim 4,500 square miles of the rich soil of the state, which is equal to that of some of our states. The health of the entire region adjacent to the lands proposed will be so benefited as to add enormously to the value of all classes of property. If we do not take advantage of this opportunity, the eyes of the world will be upon us, and we may be unable to secure government assistance in getting this work undertaken."

Government to Co-operate.

"In making this appropriation, I am eager to co-operate in the work, but the policy of the government is to help those who help themselves. I have been in touch with the commissioners of agriculture and his predecessor in office, and I have their word that the government will co-operate with us when named. So far as I can see, we may be able to make this appropriation."

"I thoroughly realize that the treasury is not in a position to meet the usual appropriations this year, but viewed solely as an investment, this is a proposition which the state cannot afford to neglect."

Bishop's Preventive Is

All Right, Says Reader,
But Not Thorough Enough

The Bishop's preventive suggested in Tuesday's Constitution by G. L. Bishop struck at the eye of at least one man who appreciated the suggested defense against the risks of the venereal disease but, in a communication, signed "An Interested Reader," query is made as to why the preventives were not applied to the feet and ankles, their writer sadly acknowledging that the little remedy he had suggested confined their operations to the eye in a limited portion of his anatomy.

The communication continues: "After consulting Mr. E. L. Bishop, a very good preventive, no doubt, but not safe, so far as the author of the article says, I am inclined to believe the article is safe. So far as I can see, Mr. Bishop has done a good service to the public in keeping the little remedy 'off' his shelf.' In my opinion there is no such weakness beside the AN INTERESTED READER."

Committee of Four Busy Making Arrangements

The union machinists of Atlanta have planned a big dance at Lakewood for August, to which numbers of their friends and relatives will be invited. The dance will be at the park at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and will remain until 11 o'clock that night.

It is intended that the dance will be a picnic and dance together, while the evening will be devoted to dancing in the park. Arrangements are now being perfected to make the affair a success by a committee consisting of the following: Dan L. Goodlin, Jas. R. Butler, R. L. Curley and A. Langford.

OPPOSES REDUCTION OF RECORDER'S POWER

Senator G. M. Huie Will in All Probability Insist on Changes in Charter Bill.

It has developed that the Atlanta charter bill which passed the house last week will be presented to the legislature by Senator M. Huie, of the thirty-fifth district, of which Fulton county is a part. The author of the bill is Senator G. M. Huie, of the reduction of the power of the recorder in sentencing prisoners to confinement and in finding them.

This section reduces the power of the recorder in sentencing prisoners to confinement and in finding them.

Senator Huie stated that in view of the fact that the bill was introduced by him, he would insist on changes in the charter bill.

He said that the recorder's powers should be reduced, but not entirely removed.

Atkins, another representative from Fulton, proposed that the county and not the city of Atlanta and as a result that the recorder should have the right to present the case to the court of appeals.

The recorder's representatives and not the city council and await their action on the matter. Until I hear officially from the recorder, my bill will be held up to the section reducing the recorder's powers.

Other representatives, presumably from Fulton, recommended that the recorder and that he did not think local governments should be allowed to step in and that for that reason he would hold up the pending legislation concerning the recorder until he had heard from the recorder.

Roberts, a railroad lawyer, said he would hold up the bill until he could stand on the question.

GEORGIA INVITATION DECLINED BY BACON

Senator Cannot Leave Washington Because of Pressure of Public Business.

By John Carrigan, Jr.
Washington, July 22.—General Secretary of the League refused to decline the invitation of the general assembly to address them. He was anxious to do so, but after consulting with his colleagues decided not to leave Washington just now because of the pressure of important public business.

In addition to the tariff debate which formally opened at Monday's plenum session, upon which the advice of Senator Bacon, as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, was sought, he is expected to speak on the foreign policy of the friends of the Kuhn-Lewis bill, the status of the democratic cause, on being consulted by Senator Bacon about accepting the League of Nations.

With our slender majority in the Senate it is of the highest importance that we do not let up our efforts every day while the tariff bill is being considered, as the absence of any may put us at the mercy of our adversaries.

"There is another reason why I decline the invitation which will take you away from the capital, and that is that our relations with certain foreign governments are so strained that if we commit our foreign relations committee your presence here might be imperatively needed.

Senator Bacon upon receipt of this letter wrote to the joint committee of the Georgia legislature, stating that it was impossible for him to leave his post of duty at the present time.

GOVERNMENT CLERKS MUST PAY THEIR DEBTS

Washington, July 22.—Works in the government departments either must pay their debts or relinquish their jobs. This is the stand taken by the administration. This order is now in department, and an order signed by Secretary Garrison is being handed to all clerks in the various bureaus. It reads that "creditors and collectors will be denied access to employees" during office hours, and adds:

"This work will not be used as a collection agency, it will not consider as a means of collection, nor neglects to make payment."

It was denied at the department that there was any change in the rules of the bureaus, and the statement adds that the order, an old one, merely was called to the attention of the clerks. The orders of the bureaus are in force in the departments of state, agriculture, navy, interior and commerce, but they are not considered as binding, except as the interpretation of the order issued today by Secretary Garrison.

New York, July 22.—The Erie road informed the board of mediation that it would return to the conference committee of managers to discuss the clearing up of the difficulties side of the dispute involving the threatened strike of 80,000 trainmen and conductors. Through President Dr. Upton, the board announced that the system was prepared to accept any awards made by any fact-finding committee appointed under the Newlands act.

COTTON REACTED LATE IN THE DAY

Market Opened Higher in N. Y., but Sudden Drop in July Cotton at N. O. Caused Decline in Prices.

New York, July 22.—A former Laramie market, though not expected and apprehension over weather conditions in the central and western belt notably increased, was followed by a reaction of the steadiness which prevailed in the local cotton market most of the last week. Opening prices were 2 to 5 points higher, and though the improvement was sustained during the day until almost an hour before the close, when a sudden drop in July cotton at New Orleans unsettled the local market and caused a sharp reaction, the levels of the day, the close showing new records of a long time.

Although New Orleans' market recovered half in the heat, the market continued under pressure and was nervous right up to the close. Underlying conditions were favorable, however, notwithstanding this break in the south, was rather apprehensive about the crop output in the western belt, particularly in Texas. The weather forecast indicated dry weather for a day or two longer than usual. Come Monday, however, it was expected that state from drought have begun to appear in considerable numbers, and it was believed that unless general rainfall came in time, the cotton crop estimate may have to be materially reduced. Throughout the eastern belt, further indications of favorable abundance of moisture, and crop accounts were generally favorable.

Arrivals of cotton at New York to date, 1,000 bales, were 1,248 bales consigned, being understood that most of the latter cotton was intended for export.

A COMPARISON IN VALUES

SOME PEOPLE BELIEVE, and are very in the habit, that a real estate agent can always sell your place for you. We do not believe that this is a mistake, but one that causes you to lose a good trade and, incidentally, money, for if he finds out you will pass him up in the future. We know that it is to the agent's interest to sell you his house, but it is also to his interest and ours propositions that are money-makers, so that you will come back, and with a smile in mind, as often as you can. We have been across state lines, and have sold houses on Peachtree Ferry and Peachtree roads. Peachtree Ferry property offered at $150 to $200 three years ago has jumped to $350 to $400 now. Peachtree road, while Peachtree road in Fulton county is being sold at $35 per foot. Our present offer is $25 per foot. Peachtree Ferry property, jump in prices on Peachtree road, and we can answer right back that property on Peachtree road was selling at $25 per foot before the car tax was imposed.

In comparing values we have come to the conclusion that property on the Roswell road is the best buy in Fulton county for the following reasons:

It is without question the prettiest drive leading out of Atlanta.

It is on the most beautiful section of any road leading out of Atlanta.

It is certain to be widened into a 40-foot drive, making it the most beautiful auto drive in Fulton county.

It is the prettiest car line within the next few years, for the reason that it goes somewhere.

You can buy the property today on Roswell road at $150 to $200 per acre, and when you get the same price after the car tax is imposed, and $100 to $150 per acre, the same distance out on Peachtree Ferry road.

In our opinion, there's big money to be made on Roswell road, all it needs to start big profits going is for one or two of the big fellows to build houses on it, and they will come to it pretty soon.

We are breaking out and buying property on Roswell road, and we let us show you the following places. We believe that you will see the profit.

35 NEGRO CONVICTS
BURNED IN THEIR PEN

Jackson, Miss., July 22.—Eighteen negroes, members of condemned convicts, were moved today from the rules of the Oakley state convict prison fire in which a total of 35 convicts were burned to death yesterday. The bodies were found huddled together in the corner farthest from where the fire started.

When the alarm was given all possible means of escape for the inmates of the prison were cut off. The flames had broken through in another pen were formed in a relay squad and worked desperately to fight back the flames. Some of the convicts who had perished in less than an hour after the fire started.

Samuel D. Deeds, in charge of the farm, said today it was his opinion that the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion of animal manure and other farm products under a stallway.

Twenty minutes before the fire was discovered, a workman had made his rounds and announced all well.

Twenty minutes later another watching the flames, the stallway afame and the prisoners trapped.

Convict W. H. Burch, after the inquiry, told the visiting reporter, "We're burning the place down."

The consolidated showed that the first senator to be elected popularly was John C. Breckinridge.

The following tellers were appointed by President Anderson, of whom the late T. C. Burch, and moved here last year from Lincoln country.

From the House of Representatives—Miller of Bibb, McCrory of Schley, Miller of Fulton, and Edmundson of Meriwether, and Edmundson of Brooks.

Local Bills Passed.

The following local bills were passed by the house:

FIREMEN Were Delayed.

That meant ten minutes delay for part of the firemen. But even though the firemen were delayed, the first puff of flames was harvested before the fire reached the building along the street.

After this fierce blast, the fire seemed to burn from every part of the building, at first in patches, then in waves, until the escape girls, women and men were clustered, and inside, others were waiting to get onto the iron ladders.

The flames were too quick for them to get away.

The firemen, who had been fighting the fire, may have contributed to the disaster, the delay in getting all the firemen to the scene may have been responsible for the loss of life.

At the time of the explosion, the firemen were still working on the south end of the building, when the explosion took place.

When the firemen arrived, in response to the telephone alarm they were unable to get within 200 feet of the building, because the smoke and the streams from their hose were turned into steam without effect upon them.

The flames were too quick for them to get away.

Life nets and extension ladders were usually unused. There was no chance for the firemen to get away, except the last resort to jumping, and this many took, while others ran.

Scarcely one of the survivors was able to give a connected account of what had taken place, but in view of the fact that when the employees—mostly women and girls—realized that the call was not a false alarm and that the alarm was sounding upon them, they fled and scattered their bodies began falling rapidly.

The building was four stories high and the top floor had been converted into a dormitory, with each room containing six beds.

With the injured and the dying lying all about the hospital doctor and nurses worked with amazing rapidity and skill, but when the fire had reached the fourth floor, and the fire all the patients there had received medical attention. Most of them were dead.

At about 11 o'clock the first victims of the most pathetic cases at the hospital were brought to the physician convalescing among the other patients, and the physicians, who were few, saw every available boat for splints to bind up broken limbs, and the men of the hospital, Dr. Loughlin, together with Rev. Mr. Crumpton, came to offer spiritual consolation to the patients.
